Software Development

Balancing talent & technology at right cost

Byju Joseph, CTO, Future Generali Life Insurance, discusses key issues associated with inhouse software development;

Ravi Lalwani: What are the commonly used programming and productivity tools used in Future Generali Life

Byju Joseph: We use Visual Studio and open tools to create and deploy modern web applications. Development for the web is by using ASP.NET, Node. js, Python, JavaScript, Angular, jQuery, Bootstrap, Azure, Vision AI, Android Studio, Flutter, VS Code, Ionic, SQLite Manager, Notepad ++, Git, Java SDK, Android SDK, JetBrains, Sourcetree, etc.

What new programming tools and programming productivity tools are you looking to adopt to empower digital transformation?

Migration to Visual Studio Code enables us deep remote development and helps connecting to a container running a different OS (build, debug, test, and deploy software containers). In addition, we will be migrating from. NET Framework to .NET Core. Moving code to .NET 5 is not only about supporting future Windows releases, we see it as an opportunity to deliver it to many more platforms and users.

How do you prioritize between better technology vs talent availability vs cost vs other factors?

The way we do business is changing at a breakneck pace. We are spending a large chunk of our budget on adopting new technologies. It is given that technology is going to change just about everything. The thing is, when technology becomes complex, talent becomes even more important to the business because we need skilled employees to successfully use the technology that we have invested in. These days, all the best talent wants to be part of leading-edge organizations that are innovative and efficient. So, if organizations do not invest in technology, existing talent won't stay, and new talent won't be attracted. The key lies in balancing talent and technology at the right cost. We look for people with an aptitude to learn new technologies and are able to apply them in different environments and who have the skills to integrate new strategies and resources.

How do tools from smaller companies compare with those from giants like Microsoft, Oracle, etc?

Many fascinating smaller companies that have come from nowhere over the last few years are building best tools and seemingly doing good in otherwise dominant econystems. And it has been done largely by creating a new market, rather than competing with giants. There are opportunities to be both found and created, and it is still possible for the right combination of skill, timing and smartness to carve out a niche where the big players will not squash small.

Are the tool costs rising, falling, or steady? The required sophistication of

The required sophistication of digital presence continues to accelerate. Unfortunately, the skills required to develop and maintain even a basic app, are in short supply. In my experience, the modern development tools are available at reasonable prices and steady for quite some time. The rising cost of programming talent is the key concern while we still face right skill shortage.

From your perspective, how do open source tools compare with proprietary ones today?

Most important open source engineering software is essentially free, continually evolving, less prone to bugs and no locking into using a particular vendor. Open participation enables co-creation and faster problem-solving, will get quick access to the support offered by technical community. Free exchange of ideas creates an environment where people can learn from each other and contribute to the creation of new ideas. In open source communities, the best ideas win, and everyone has access to the same information. People with the same principles bring together diverse ideas and share their work, facilitating rapid prototyping.

Despite the many benefits, there are many reasons why open source software adoption is widespread as proprietary alternatives. Since creating a commercial software that would generate revenue is not a requirement here, the needs of the end user tend to be neglected in favour of developers' preferences. As a result, there are several disadvantages of using purely open source software.

The software interface is much less user-friendly, and often difficult to use unless you have extensive coding experience. When you run into problems, you have only the community of fellow users to rely on for support, which they provide on a voluntary basis. While one benefit of an open system is that many people are identifying and fixing the bugs; however, that also means that it will be vulnerable to users with malicious

Work from home has resulted in taking speedy decisions, Byju Joseph, Future Generali Life Insurance

Over 93 percent of new customers acquired during the crisis period have been done digitally. In Q4 CY 2019, this was close to 60 percent. The investments made in building a robust backend infrastructure helped in swiftly moving to WFH. This was well before the onset of COVID-19

Ev Abhishek Rayal - List updated Jul 17, 2020

As soon as the lockdown was announced, the top priority was to continue with the operational stability. In that direction, the CIO's office had the opportunity to prove the value that it can bring to business and making Work from Home (WFH) possible was just the first step. "In under seven days after the imposition of lockdown, we made sure the last of the employees had the necessary IT infrastructure provisioned with - in the form of VPN, VDI setup to continue to WFH," informs Byju Joseph, CIO, Future Generali Life Insurance.

Operationalising WFH

However, the WFH model has its own set of challenges - connectivity, secured connectivity in terms of both the security of the employee device as well as the customer data he is accessing, if that is the case. "Future Generali used the VDI infrastructure to provide secured connectivity to the employees. Be it their own device or the company provided device. Also, all the compute happened at the server level," informs Joseph.

WFH also involves allowing employees to interact with multiple stakeholders with collaboration tools. The 'Microsoft Teams' tool was implemented about seven months back. "The adoption until March 20, 2020 was just about 12-18 percent. By March 23-24, after the lockdown was announced, it shot up to 100 percent," states Joseph. The employees started self-learning the tools and also adopted it actively, whereas pre-COVID, inspite of adopting various training models, the adoption was growing at a lukewarm pace. This was just the primary stage of the acceptance.

Introspecting on the Role of Technology in the New Normal

The Covid-19 crisis has irreversibly changed work and life as we knew it. Within the new normal, businesses and individuals find themselves grappling to conduct economic activities remotely, to work around the trade-off between ensuring physical and economic safety.

During these challenging times, mindsets have undergone a change and ecosystems are getting broken down and replaced with entirely new structures. Unique partnerships are emerging to cater to shifting customer preferences, and businesses are demonstrating openness to reinvent themselves by adopting new management practices and innovative strategies and solutions.

To comprehend the nature and extent of the disruption that businesses are undergoing and deliberate on the way forward, Forbes India hosted a series of virtual discussions between industry captains. The sixth in the series, presented under the banner of One CEO Club, witnessed Munish Sharda, MD & CEO, Future Generali Life Insurance; Mithun Sacheti, co-founder & CEO, Caratlane, and Karan Bajwa, CEO, Google Cloud India, sharing their new-found experiences and astute insights.

बदलाव उपभोक्ताओं, व्यवसायों और अर्थव्यवस्था के लिए अच्छा ही होगा

लॉकडाउन के दौरान डिजिटल प्लेट फॉर्मों से जुड़ने की कोशिशों को मिल रहा बढ़ावा

नई दिल्ली, एजेंसी। प्यूचर जनरली इंडिया लाइफ इंश्योरेंस कंपनी लिमिटेड के चीफ मार्केटिंग और कस्टमर ऑफिसर राकेश वाधवा का मानना है कि भारत में डिजिटल विस्तार की तीव्र रफ्तार के बावजूद, देश में वित्तीय सेवाओं के उपभोक्ताओं ने अपने रोजमर्रा के लेनदेन के लिए अब भी डिजिटल प्लेटफॉर्मों को पूरी तरह से नहीं अपनाया है। यह गैर-मेट्रो बाजारों और ग्रामीण इलाकों के लिए खासतौर पर सच है। दरअसल, अभी शरुआती दिन ही चल रहे हैं, क्योंकि इस परिवर्तन के लिहाज से अहम मोड नोटबंदी के दौरान ही आया था। तब से. वित्तीय सेवाओं ने अपना काफी डिजिटल रूपांतरण कर लिया है। इसमें डिजिटल इंडिया और जेएएम (जनधन, आधार और मोबाइल) का बढ़िया सहयोग रहा, जिन्हें भारत सरकार वित्तीय समावेशन लाने के लिए बढ़ावा दे रही है। फिलहाल जारी लॉकडाउन के दौर की बदौलत बेशक हम विभिन्न पटल में डिजिटल प्लेटफॉर्मों को अपनाए जाने के लिहाज से एक और अहम मोड़ देखने जा रहे हैं। कुल मिलाकर यह बदलाव उपभोक्ताओं, व्यवसायों और अर्थव्यवस्था के लिए अच्छा ही होगा। क्या कहते हैं मौजदा हालात

जारी लॉकडाउन चरण में, बैंकों और बीमा कंपनियों सरीखी वित्तीय सेवा कंपनियों तक जनता की पहुंच को अत्यावश्यक माना गया है। ऐसा सरकार ने किया है, तािक रोजमर्रा की जिंदगी बाधित न हो और सामाजिक अराजकता की स्थित न आने पाए। बहरहाल, इस तरह के संगठन सीिमत संख्या में कर्मचािरयों के साथ

कार्यालय खोल तो सकते हैं, लेकिन वे पूरी तरह से सारी सेवाएं प्रदान करने में असमर्थ हैं। सोशल डिस्टेंसिंग भी ग्राहक की आमद को और बाधित कर रही है। बैंकिंग और बीमा कंपनियों जैसे व्यक्तिगत वित्त संस्थानों में पहले से ही ये प्लेटफॉर्म हैं, परंतु मौजूदा स्थित संगठनों को अपनी डिजिटल क्षमताओं के विस्तार और ग्राहकों की सहूलियत के लिए नई सेवाएं जोड़ने को प्रेरित कर रही है। अपनी साइबर सुरक्षा प्रणालियों को मजबूत बनाते हुए वे बढ़ी हुई संख्या को संभालने की तैयारी भी कर रहे हैं।

जनता के लिए इसका क्या मतलब है

ग्राहकों के लिए, इसका अर्थ है एक अलग वास्तविकता को अपनाना, अपनी हिचक व रुकावटों को दूर करना और अपनी वित्तीय जरूरतों की पर्ति के लिए तकनीक से खलकर दोस्ती करना। हालांकि यह बहत-से लोगों को आदत में बदलाव के लिए मजबूर कर सकता है, लेकिन यह आखिरकार सभी वर्गों के लिए अच्छा ही होगा। जहां महानगरों और बड़े शहरी शहरों में ग्राहकों और उपभोक्ताओं के कुछ सेगमेंट ने बैंकिंग और बीमा आदि के लिए ऑनलाइन लेन-देन को तेजी से अपनाया है, वहीं वरिष्ठ नागरिक, तकनीक के साथ ज्यादा सहज न हो पाए लोग और छोटे शहरों जैसे समाज के कई वर्गों ने एक बेहतर डेटा और बैंडविड्थ वाले बुनियादी ढांचे के बावजद प्रतिक्रिया में इतनी तेजी नहीं दिखाई है। इसका एक कारण तो यह है कि उन्हें किसी तयशुदा जगह पर जाने और अपनी वित्तीय गतिविधियों

को लेकर आमने-सामने की चर्चा करने की सविधा मिलती रही है, जिसमें वे सहजता महसस करते हैं। वित्तीय संस्थानों के साथ व्यवहार में भरोसे की अहम भूमिका होती है और इसलिए कुछ लोग ऐसे संस्थान के स्थानीय कार्यालय में जाने या संस्थान के प्रतिनिधि को अपने परिसर में बुलाने को प्राथमिकता देते हैं। बहरहाल, भले ही विडंबना लगे, लेकिन सच तो यह है कि लॉकडाउन का समय हर किसी के लिए बुनियादी बातें सीखने का एक अच्छा अवसर है। इनमें पेमेंट गेटवे के जरिए ऑनलाइन फंड टांसफर करना. रिन्युअल्स का भुगतान करना, बैलेंस चेक करना और स्टेटमेंट प्राप्त करना आदि शामिल हैं- और यह सब बड़े आराम से घर पर बैठे-बैठे किया जा सकता है।
